

English 12B: Service Learning, Getting Started #1

Goals: Use Owl at Purdue University

Write a citation for a complete website

Survey the Learn & Serve America website

Define service-learning

Find examples of service-learning

I.) Using OWL at Purdue University's MLA style guide, write a citation for the Learn and Serve America website. www.learnandserve.gov

II.) What is service learning? Path: About Us, What is Learn and Serve America

III.) What is the Learn & Serve Challenge? Path: About Us, Learn and Serve America Programs, Learn & Serve Challenge

IV.) According to the issue brief "The Impact of Service-Learning: A Review of Current Research," how does service-learning impact voting? Path: For Individuals, Students, Find Out More About Service Learning, About Learn and Serve America, What is Service-Learning? Impact of Learn and Serve America, The Impact of Service-Learning: A Review of Current Research, Issue Brief

V.) Find five different examples of service-learning projects that you found interesting. Bullet-point the names of the project. Path: For Individuals, Frequently Asked Questions for Individuals, Service-Learning Ideas and Curricular Examples (SLICE), High School 9-12 VI.) Save your top two favorite service-learning ideas along with any documentation that is provided. Be prepared to present your two favorite projects to the class. Be able to talk about these projects.

English 12B: Service Learning, Getting Started #2

Goals: Use Owl at Purdue University

Write a citation for a complete website

Survey United We Serve website

Preview process of creating a project of your own

Find examples of service-learning that you find interesting

I.) Bullet-point the five steps for getting started on a service-learning project. Read the information on this page. Don't just jot down the bullet-points. Also, make notes of questions that you have as you go. Path: Learnandserve.gov, Students, Create Your Own Service Project – a Serve.gov Toolkit

II.) Using OWL at Purdue University's MLA style guide, write a citation for the United We Serve website. www.serve.gov

III.) Find several needs that you might be interested in helping with using the United We Serve website. Even if you just like the idea, but not the location jot down the idea. Path: Serve.gov, Find a Volunteer Opportunity

IV.) Read through the toolkits provided. Make note of any projects that interest you. Pay particular attention to the PROCESS of developing such a project. Save any toolkits that are similar to what you would like to do. Jot down below the projects that interest you, and the toolkits that you saved. Path: Serve.gov, View All Toolkits
OR Find Toolkits

V.) Choose an article from the "Communication" section of the Leadership Articles Website (www.leadershiparticles.net). Make sure to choose one that will give you excellent information that may help you to communicate better. Write a citation for the article (use OWL for help – the example you need is a "Page from a Website"). In your class notebook, write a SUMMARY of the article. Be prepared to share this with the class.