Painting Adventures

On one particular morning, Martin Luther King Day, Tyler Garter, Korinna Boston, Josh Menzel, and Hannah Nelson all participated in helping Flat River Outreach Ministries complete multiple tasks. One important task was painting. As a group, we accomplished two rooms and two bathrooms. Our group had a feeling inside that shows you did something good. The feeling that you won't have with any other task. We helped others in a way that transforms the way they think about you. We made an impact on your local community. We had friends by your side to complete a task. This once in a lifetime experience, one of the best experiences of your life. Our group created new life, in a simple room. A family in need will be staying in that room. As a person, we know that we've changed their life forever. We gave them a new spark to life, making others feel welcome.

Our group spent a lot of time painting and detailing every aspect of each room.

Demolition Project

Destroying multiple walls, taking down cables and taking down windows. All these tasks bring new and exciting feelings to F.R.O.M. Flat River was planning a total remodel of the building. Starting with the destruction of three walls. We go multiple people involved, sing sludge hammers and wheel barrels, moving cement bricks to the trash. This project made it possible to create new living area for families in need. Our groups from Lowell High School got down and dirty. Making this easy for the F.R.O.M administration. Getting work down, while still having a good time. Mrs. Keglovitz joined us in this project. She had a blast watching the young men smashing and destroying the walls. There is always a little mess left behind. She gladly volunteered to vacuum up the left over concrete.

The top picture is our awesome teacher, Mrs. Keglovitz. She is cleaning up some left over wall materials.

The bottom picture is an amazing color that F.R.O.M chose to paint a room. It's the color Royal Blue.
